RAMADAN – READING COMPREHENSION

READING PASSAGE:

Ramadan is a special month when Muslims stop eating and drinking from sunrise to sunset, which is called fasting. Muslims fast to feel thankful and to remember people who have less food, helping them learn to be grateful. During Ramadan, Muslims pray more, read the Quran, and do good deeds like sharing food, giving charity, and being extra kind to others. Ramadan also teaches us to be patient and kind by reminding us to use good words, make good choices, and think about the feelings of others.

COMPREHENSION QUESTIONS:

1. What do Muslims do from sunrise to sunset during Ramadan?

- a) Sleep
- b) Go to school
- c) Fast
- d) Travel

2. Why do Muslims fast?

- a) To win a prize
- b) To feel thankful
- c) To stay awake
- d) To learn math

3. What book do Muslims read more during Ramadan?

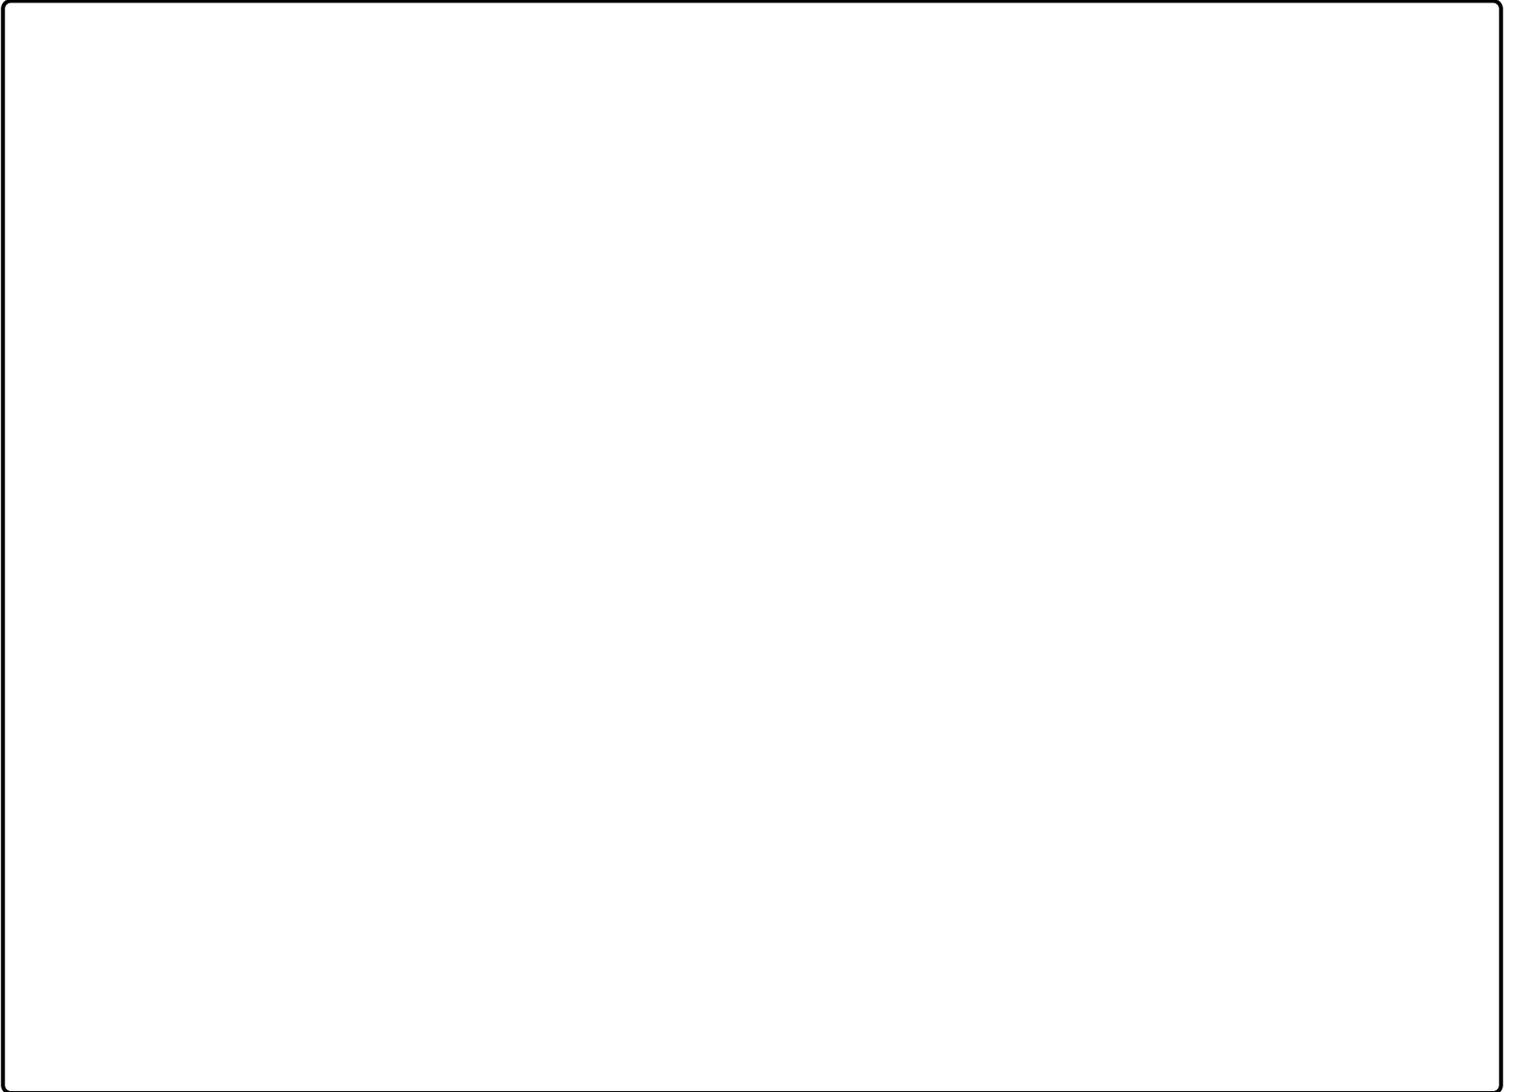

- a) A storybook
- b) The Quran
- c) A cookbook
- d) A comic book

4. What does Ramadan help us learn?

- a) To run fast
- b) To be patient and kind
- c) To draw pictures
- d) To build things
